October 2013
For my 50th
High School Reunion

A short bio? Oh, my!

Oh, I'm still short.

To sum up 50 yrs. I'll give a short retort ...

Blessed beyond measure; family/friends still a treasure.

God is my strength from day to day.

Through dark shadows and Son light as I find my way.

Happily married for 24 yrs - losing Bob ('07) brought the tears.

Secretarial work, a lot of my past.

(But only those things done for Christ will last.)

Very active today in community, church and neighborhood.

I enjoy God's inner peace, and that is good.

Part-time work now as a window dresser for a jewelry store ...

There's more -

Then I'm "shabby-chic" and also "antique"

When I work at a fun little shop

Meeting & greeting customers when they stop

For furniture, vases, lamps and what-nots.

I can speed through a book; love to read. Take a look:

Favorites - Jane Eyre, Charlotte Brontë, 2 times

- Safely Home, Randy Alcorn, (novel about the persecuted church today in China)

- Redeeming Love, Francine Rivers, 2 times

- The Bible, a daily read

Favorite poem: The Fall of me and the all of me still calls to the Spring and the tall of me. - Martin Buxbaum

A good sense of humor and faith in God helps me journey on this sod ...

Blessings,
Kathy Dillon Faircl
